MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

Fullam, Sr. J.

April 3, 2008

In this case arising under the Americans with Disabilities Act, the defendant-employer has filed a motion for summary judgment, and the plaintiff has responded at length. The issue is whether plaintiff was disabled, or was perceived to be disabled, and whether his real or apparent disability was a causal factor in the defendant's adverse employment decisions. In all significant respects, this case is identical to the case of Williams v. Philadelphia Housing Authority, 380 F.3d 751 (3d Cir. 2004). In that case, the Third Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a grant of summary judgment, and I am required to follow that ruling in the present case. The defendant's motion for summary judgment will therefore be denied.

An Order follows.
